KANEAKUA MURDERS WIFE THEN SUICIDES

Double Tragedy Is Result Of Family Quarrel At Koloa.

PREPARATIONS DELIBERATE AND TERRIBLY COMPLETE

REPORT OF CORONER'S JURY MOOKINI THREATENED WITH DEATH FOR ATTEMPT TO SAVE.

Koloa, Kauai, Dec. 6.—Thursday evening, December 4, 1902, William Kaneakua shot his wife Kala Kamali, and after she had expired, shot himself. It was understood from the authorities yesterday the two had quarreled the whole day on account of the wife's former husband's frequent calls at the house. At 4 o'clock Kaneakua went to one of the stores and purchased a 32-caliber revolver with the pretense of going out for a bear hunt. As soon as he bought the deadly weapon he went home and started to load it. Mr. Mookini, the owner of the house, endeavored to quiet things down, but before he knew it the revolver was pointed at him, and Kaneakua threatened that if interfered with again he would be a dead man.

During all this time Kaneakua was moving backwards toward his wife, and when he reached her side fired at her, the shot penetrating her heart and came out from her right side. Those who witnessed the tragedy ran to their neighbors' house and Mookini ran into his own room after his revolver for self defense, when he heard Kaneakua firing the second time at his wife. Before Mookini returned to the horrible scene, Kaneakua had placed the muzzle of his revolver in his right ear and shot himself. When the sheriff arrived with his officers both of them were lifeless. They were buried yesterday.

High Sheriff Brown received from Koloa the report of a coroner's inquest, held at Koloa over the body of W. Kaneakua (k) and Kala (w), who came to their deaths last Thursday in a very sensational manner.

The testimony of Dr. Goodhue, who made the post mortem examination, shows that the doctor found on Kaneakua a bullet hole in the right side of his head just near the ear. The exit hole was through the opposite ear, the bullet following the ear canal. This was sufficient to cause instant death.

On the body of Kala Kawali, which was found about four feet from that of Kaneakua, there were two bullet holes, one through the right breast, into the lung. The other was into the left axilla with a course towards the heart. This last wound undoubtedly caused instant death.

The testimony of eye witnesses to the tragedy shows that Kaneakua had deliberately planned the death of the woman and of himself and that he carried out his terrible plan with cool deliberation. G. Mookini testified as follows:

"I know both of the dead bodies lying on the veranda. Kaneakua came very close to me and when he saw Kala he began to swear at her. I went up to him. Then he pulled out a pistol from his bosom and pointed at me and said: 'Don't touch me or you are a dead man.' I kept still and he fired at Kala one time as far as I know and I heard two others. This happened at about 5 p. m. on Dec. 4."

Helen Oleka testified that she saw the two deceased on the veranda. She saw Kaneakua fire twice at Kala, whereupon the witness ran away.

R. Jaradin, a salesman in a store in Koloa testified that on Dec. 4 he had sold Kaneakua a pistol, which he identified as being the same with which Kaneakua committed the deed. Kaneakua said when he bought the revolver that he was going to use it to shoot wild pigs.

The coroner's jury returned the following verdict: "That Kala (w.) came to her death by being shot with a revolver in the hands of Kaneakua and that Kaneakua came to his death by suicide with the same revolver. The murder and suicide took place about 5 p. m. Dec. 4, at Koloa."

FISHER TAKES OFFICE

THE NEW AUDITOR ASSUMES HIS DUTIES

DOUBLY SWORN BY CHIEF JUSTICE—NO PRESENT CHANGE IS TO BE MADE IN STAFF.

Auditor Fisher took the oath of allegiance and office before Chief Justice Frear this morning. The first is in this form:

"I, J. H. Fisher, residing in the District of Honolulu, Island of Oahu, in the First Judicial Circuit, having been appointed Auditor, do solemnly swear in the presence of Almighty God, that I will faithfully support the Constitution and laws of the United States, and conscientiously and impartially discharge my duties as such Auditor of the Government of the Territory of Hawaii. So help me God."

The second oath reads thus:

"I, J. H. Fisher, do solemnly swear that, according to the best of my skill and ability, I will faithfully, impartially and truly execute the office and perform the duties of Auditor."

Mr. Fisher took charge of the Audit office at the opening hour. He stated to a Bulletin reporter that no changes were contemplated in the staff for the present at least. The first thing to do would be to find out the amount and character of work each man is doing. Mr. Fisher informed Deputy Auditor Meyers that he hoped the rumor of his intended resignation was not correct.

PORTO RICAN BARELY ESCAPES HIS DEATH

A Porto Rican this morning attempted to commit suicide by hanging himself and came very near being successful. The man has been living with his wife in an old Primo beer saloon along the lower part of Liliha, near Vineyard street. When the sheriff arrived he obtained possession of the premises using the room as a small store, and putting up a partition in it behind which the couple had their sleeping quarters.

Last night, the fellow had trouble with his wife. He finally told her he was going out to find another woman and left the house. He returned later on, and spent the night at his place.

This morning at about 6:30 o'clock, he told his wife he was going to commit suicide. He procured a rope and fastening one end on the top of the partition and tying the other around his neck, he suspended himself on the partition. The woman became very much frightened and summoned Officer Kulike who lives in the neighborhood. The officer responded quickly and cut the man down. The Porto Rican was already unconscious and was only revived with much difficulty.

Kulike telephoned to the police station for assistance and Officer Duncan was sent to the place. When he saw the condition the unfortunate man was in he telephoned for the patrol wagon in which the man was taken to the police station. He was kept there for a few hours but as he appeared to be perfectly rational and promised not to attempt to commit suicide again, he was let out.

PREVENTION OF PESTS

Two cases of plants accompanied with two of soil were landed by last steamer from Japan. The roots of the plants were done up in moss. Commissioner Wray Taylor and Entomologist Perkins of the Agricultural Department inspected the consignment. The first handful of soil pulled out by Mr. Perkins was found to be teeming with the larva of something, but time was not lost in deciding whether or not it was of the Japanese beetle. Both cases revealed the same condition, and the soil was promptly dumped into the harbor, where the salt water would do for its inhabitants. There was nothing suspicious found in the moss enveloping the roots of the plants in the other two cases, nevertheless it was thoroughly fumigated against any chance of infection. The plants looked healthy enough.

All permits to gather ferns and the like from the Tantalus forest have been stopped by Wray Taylor, Commissioner of Agriculture and Forestry, at the request of the owners of the property.

ELKS REMEMBER DEPARTED ONES

Impressive Ceremonies At Opera House Sunday.

MUSIC OF OCCASION WAS GREAT FEATURE

MRS. FARADAY AND MRS. GEO. MACFARLANE GIVE PLEAS- URE—ORATION BY F. THOMPSON.

There have been many complaints that Honolulu is lacking in musical talent and that, for a town of its size, there should be an infinitely better showing. All those who were present at the splendid memorial services of the Elks Lodge in the Opera House Sunday afternoon are willing to contradict any such statements whenever, wherever and by whomsoever made. Truly, the program was one that admits of none but favorable criticism and too much to the credit of the committee in charge of the arrangements, cannot be said. The music and the ritualistic part of the program combined to create a most impressive occasion which was at its highest pitch of impressiveness when after the calling of the roll of the dead by the secretary, five voices from behind the scenes sang "Nearer, My God, To Thee" to the accompaniment of eleven strokes from a solo tolling bell.

Every seat in the Opera House, upstairs and down, was filled, there being present a notable audience of the Best People on Earth and the best people in Honolulu. At the entrance to the place was a bank of ferns over which was an Elk's head. The Elks were gathered in a body just in front of other members of the lodge scattered throughout the audience. The loges were occupied by the wives of the officers of the lodge and others and in the right hand lower box were Prince David Kawananakoa and Hon. and Mrs. Samuel Parker. The guests of the lodge were shown to their places by Allan Dunn and Lieut. Harry Newton of Camp McKinley. The very attractive design on the program was drawn by Allan Dunn.

The officers of the Elks were seated on the stage in lodge formation, the Exalted Ruler and others being on a raised platform. Back of the stage and in a position above the Exalted Ruler was an elk's head, while a smaller one, placed on a stand covered with an American flag, occupied the central position on the stage. Those on the stage were: Exalted Ruler Francis M. Brooks, Past Exalted Ruler Dr. C. B. Cooper, and the chaplain, Rev. Alexander Mackintosh. Other officials, seated in their customary places, were: J. H. Fisher, esteemed leading knight; H. H. Williams, esteemed loyal knight; Lorrin Andrews, esteemed lecturing knight; Lloyd Conkling, secretary; Thomas Lloyd, treasurer; H. W. Foster, inner guard; Henry Roth, esquire; Guy Livingston, tyler. There were also two vacant chairs dressed with crepe, in token of the two departed members.

The first movements from Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," played by the Symphony Orchestra, which made its first appearance in public, was a fitting opening for the excellent program of the afternoon. Next came the most impressive part of the Elks' ritual under the direction of the Exalted Ruler, in which every officer was asked his duties in connection with keeping green the memory of the dead. Following a prayer by Rev. Alex. Mackintosh, chaplain of the order, came Sullivan's "Weep Not For The Dead," by Mrs. Faraday and a quartet composed of Miss Severson, Miss Stella Love, Chas. A. Elston and J. Lovette Rockwell.

Mrs. Faraday has sung herself into the hearts of music lovers of Honolulu. It was her first appearance in public and it was a most satisfactory one in every way. She has a deep, rich and sympathetic voice which thrills the listener.

J. Lovette Rockwell sang "But the Lord Is Mindful of His Own" in most impressive style, his deep voice filling every nook in the Opera House. After this came the eulogy of the dead, most admirably given by Lorrin Andrews. When Mrs. George MacFarlane had completed her "Ave Maria," by Schubert, there was a hush all over the house. There was no impulse to ap-

SCHOONER CONCORD WAS IN DANGER

Was In a Bad Squall While Lying Off Honokaa.

BIG SEAS BROKE OVER AND FLOODED DECKS

LUMBER IS SWEEP OVERBOARD. ANCHOR CHAIN PARTED AND VESSEL NEARLY WENT ASHORE.

The schooner Concord arrived in port yesterday after an absence at Hawaii of over three weeks. She brings back a story of hard luck and exceedingly rough weather as a result of which she is now minus her foremast and one of the anchors. During the week before last the weather along the Hamakua coast, where the Concord was, proved exceedingly rough. One day as the small schooner was lying off Honokaa, a sudden squall sprang up and struck the vessel as she was lying at anchor. For some time dire destruction threatened the little craft and those on board her. Tremendous seas kept breaking over; flooding her deck with large volumes of water. The deckload of lumber was knocked about a great deal and about 120 pieces of it were carried away by the angry seas. Finally the anchor chain parted and the small vessel was threatened with destruction by going on the shore, which at this place is very steep and rocky. Luckily, however, the sails had been set by this time and the schooner managed to pull out to sea.

A buoy was laid at the place where the anchor was dropped, but on the return to Honokaa, it could not be found. The captain of the Concord hopes, however, to be able to locate the anchor and the forty fathoms of chain which was lost with it. It was during this same storm that the Concord lost her foremast.

The Concord ran over to Kilauea on the lee side of the island for safety and stayed there for some time for repairs. She then returned to Hamakua for a load, but found it so rough that it was impossible to do any work, and she returns to this port without a cargo.

KOLOA STARTS GRINDING

Koloa, Kauai, Dec. 6.—M. A. Rego returned from Honolulu last Sunday morning with a large stock of Christmas goods.

Antons Perry, formerly salesman in the Pacific Import Co., Honolulu, has taken a position as chief clerk for M. A. Rego, and will make Koloa his future home.

Miss Potts of Elele has been spending a few days with the Goodhues. Arrangements have been made by Mrs. W. E. Smith for a concert to be given in the Koloa native church next Saturday, December 13, the proceeds of which will be expended for the Children's Christmas. The music will be in charge of Mr. Vaughan.

The Koloa mill began its grinding season Tuesday last.

The Koloa landing was so rough last Monday that it prevented the steamer Nihau from landing any freight. On this account she had to sail to Elele to discharge there and returned to this port the following day.

J. M. Conlson of M. W. McChesney & Sons, Ltd., was here the last two days.

An artistic display was the result of J. M. Lydgate's art exhibition in the new Social Hall at Lihue on Saturday evening, November 29, and was highly spoken of by all present. The exhibits included needlework, paintings, crayon work, fretwork and burnt-work. All reflect great credit on the workers, and Koloa congratulates her Lihue friends on such an artistic success. I may add that the Koloa Quartet, Messrs. H. and E. Blake, E. C. Vaughan and D. K. Kapahoe, rendered musical selections during the evening which were received with much appreciation, their number "When Chloey Sings a Song" being encored.

One of the most important matters to come up before the Legislature will be the joint resolution of both houses on the matter of Statehood, this resolution to be submitted to the Congress of the United States. It is probable that this will be one of the first to be attended to. It has been learned that

BIG GAMBLING TRIAL

TWO DOZEN CHINESE FOR BANKING GAME

FATHER AND SON IN COURT FOR SENTENCE—A POINT IS RAISED BY THE DEFENSE.

Ah Him and twenty-three others were on trial before Judge De Bolt this morning on the charge of gambling. They appeared from conviction in the District Court. Assistant Attorney General E. A. Douthitt appeared for the Territory, and Humphreys, Thompson & Watson for the defendants. The following jury was found satisfactory as drawn from the ballot box: Jessin Andrade, L. J. Nahora Hipa, K. B. Porter, C. A. G. Maerten, Jas. Nott, Eugene P. Sullivan, J. D. Cockett, Jno. Makaena, Henry Hickey, F. P. McIntyre, George Fern and Caesar Vieira. The prosecution rested at 11:45, when on motion of Mr. Thompson recess was taken until 1:30. An interesting exhibition of the banking game of fan tan was given in court. Mr. Douthitt was satisfied he could play it himself now. Mr. Thompson said he knew the game, "but not that way." Ahim and Lum Hoon, defendants in this case, failed to appear and the court ordered a bench warrant issued for them.

In the case of C. Chamberlain and Mrs. Wm. Kekipi, adultery, Mr. Kaukoku for the man asked for a continuance till next term, to enable defendant to pay his fine of the court below. Judge De Bolt confirmed the sentence of the lower court and ordered Chamberlain committed to jail until fine and costs were paid.

Mr. Creighton announced that Mariano Borges desired to plead guilty to selling liquor without license, from conviction of which below he had appealed. He was allowed to do so and sentence was suspended until 1:30, when M. J. Borges, father of Mariano, was to appear on appeal for mitigation of sentence for the same offense. At that hour the boy was first called and Mr. Corvess pleaded for the minimum fine of $100 on account of his throwing himself on the mercy of the court and his tender years, he being only fourteen years old next month. He suggested that the prosecution might ask for suspension of sentence. Mr. Douthitt said he did not take kindly to the suggestion and related the circumstances which showed that father and son had been arrested several times for selling liquor. Mr. Creighton replied, denying that the record proved the prosecution's allegations. It might be the record of the deputy sheriff's office, but was not that of the courts. There were charges against the father, but his only conviction was that from which he now appealed for mitigation. Counsel referred to the police liquor "aleuth" as "that little Japanese rascal." He believed this was the first time the boy was ever arrested. When the Bulletin reporter left, Mr. Creighton was contending that the court had inherent power, of its own motion, to suspend sentence, notwithstanding the statute that gave the moving for such to the prosecuting officer.

P. A. Anderson, who was for many years carpenter of the Public Works Department for the public buildings, died at 2 o'clock this morning. He was a Norwegian probably 55 years of age or over, and he leaves a wife and family. His wife is a daughter of the late Chris. Gertz by his first wife, Anderson was a first-class fisherman in his trade. The funeral will take place from the house in Punchbowl street, near the Mormon church, at 4 p. m. today, and be conducted under the auspices of Harmony Lodge, I. O. O. F., to which the dead man belonged.

Frank Ferreira, the former assistant back inspector, got into trouble with a lot of fellow countrymen in a Punchbowl store Sunday. He was knocked down and the whole gang jumped on him, the result being that Ferreira's leg was broken and he received numerous bruises on his face and body.

MEDICOS DISCUSS MOSQUITO PEST

A Paper By Dr. Sloggett Before Medical Association.

RICE AND TARO FIELDS TREATED WITH PETROLEUM

ASSOCIATION BANQUET IN JANU- ARY—IN MEMORIAM TO THE LATE DR. RICHARD OLIVER.

At the monthly meeting of the Hawaiian Medical Association on Saturday evening, the pestiferous mosquito was on the board for dissection. Dr. Sloggett, president, read a paper on the subject, which was followed by a discussion. No definite line of public action was suggested, the idea being to bring the matter into agitation.

President Sloggett's paper gave a resume of the experiments conducted on the Atlantic coast, which had achieved considerable results of a satisfactory nature. The remedies for the pest were drainage, the filling of swamps and the application of petroleum to stagnant water. Reference was made to the great difficulty recognized as lying in the way of remedial measures here, from the rice and taro fields in the vicinity of Honolulu which are no doubt the chief breeding ground of mosquitoes. It was stated that Wray Taylor, Commissioner of Agriculture, had made experiments with oil on the water submerging rice and taro plantings, which showed that the applications, had no ill effects on the plants.

It was decided to give a banquet to the medical profession on the 10th of January. Details will be reported to a later meeting by a committee of which Dr. Humphris is chairman.

The following memorial of the late Dr. Oliver was submitted by the committee signing it, and unanimously adopted, ordered spread on the minutes and a copy sent to the bereaved family:

"Dr. Richard Oliver was born July 12, 1839, in Carlisle, Cumberland, England, and died in Honolulu, H. I., August 12, 1902. He held the degrees of M. R. C. S. and L. S. A. (London) 1861. He married Miss Hoopli Napaki, of which union one son, now sixteen years old, was the only issue. He practiced medicine and surgery in Honolulu, H. I., for some time, then went to Hawaii as government physician for Kau, Kona and Kohala. Later, he was appointed resident physician to the Leper Settlement on Molokai, assuming his duties June 1, 1892, and served until the middle of April, 1902. He was Government physician on Hawaii at the time King Lunalilo was taken ill and brought to Honolulu. Dr. Oliver with the late Dr. Trousseau accompanied the king to his home and remained with him until he died, July 3, 1874.

"Resolved, That whereas death has removed from our midst a fellow-practitioner, who for many years has been active among us, holding positions that required ability and professional skill, we hereby give utterance to our regret at his departure, and express our sincere sympathy with the bereaved family.

There was a good attendance at the meeting.

COMES TO HONOLULU.

Walluku, Dec. 6.—Mrs. Chas. E. King wife of the inspector of schools, goes to town this afternoon to meet her husband who is at present on duty among the Honolulu schools. Mrs. King went over to Lahaina last Tuesday to meet Miss Kahana from Kamehameha school, Honolulu, who came up this week to attend to the trial of her younger sister who was indicted by the Grand Jury this morning on the charge of arson in the second degree.

There will be a meeting of the executive committee of the Republican party this afternoon at 4 o'clock for the transaction of important business.
